Polk County Cemetery Preservation Committee (PCCPC) was founded in November 2002 when a group of concerned citizens met to discuss what could be done about the abandoned and neglected cemeteries in Polk County, Georgia. It's hard to believe that so many years have passed since then.

As the membership grew and more people volunteered to help, we were able to clean-up many cemeteries throughout the years. Unfortunately many of these cemeteries have become overgrown again due to lack of volunteers and funds. The weather has also delayed us in the last few years. Hot summers and very cold winters, plus heavy rains have prevented us from working in the cemeteries.

We need your help in continuing our efforts to save and preserve these often times forgotten and neglected places. In order to do this we ask you to become a member by checking one of the boxes on the following page and mailing it with your check to PCCPC today.

As a member there are many opportunities to volunteer for any of our projects and/or activities:

- Help photographing and documenting the Polk Co. cemeteries
- Transcribing records for the website
- Transcribing newspaper articles such as obituaries for the website
- Volunteering when we set up a concession stand or information booth at various events
- Attend PCCPC meetings held the third Saturday of each month at 10:00am (except December) at the Cedartown Public Library (Conference room is to the left after entering main entrance).
- Input of ideas and suggestions for PCCPC activities and projects
- Help in planning and publishing an up-to-date Polk Co. Cemetery book
